Col. Arthur Lynch, the member of the House of Commons from Galway, who fought in the Boer army, was arrested yesterday as soon as he reached England.

He was imprisoned on the charge of high treason. Bail was refused.

The Senate yesterday agreed to a final vote on the Nicaragua canal bill and all pending amendments on June 19. Senator Fairbanks made a speech in favor of the Panama route and in defense of the commission.

State Auditor Coulter estimates that it will require two months to make certification of the counties, cities, towns and taxing districts as directed by the Court of Appeals decision.

Representative Irwin introduced in the House a bill authorizing the transportation of distilled spirits to general bonded warehouses and the removal therefrom.

The routine work of the Senate will be finished by the House next week with the passage of the Urgent Deficiency Bill and the House will then be ready for adjournment.

F. B. Thurber, president of the United States Export Association, yesterday in testifying before the Senate Cuban Committee, acknowledged that he had been paid by Gen. Wood out of the Cuban Government Treasury for advocating a Cuban reciprocity bill. He also acknowledged that Mr. Havemeyer of the Sugar Trust had contributed $2,500 toward the same object. The funds, he said, were used in distributing literature. Mr. Thurber's acknowledgment created a sensation and is regarded both as a great victory for the best sugar men and a severe defeat for Senator Aldrich, the Republican Senate leader.

Senator Quay ruled the Pennsylvania State Republican Convention yesterday at Harrisburg, securing the nomination of his candidate for Governor, Judge Samuel W. Pennypacker, and bringing about his own unanimous election as State chairman by a suspension of the rules.

The one hundredth anniversary of the West Point Military Academy was celebrated yesterday. President Roosevelt attended and delivered an address. A notable incident of the day was calling Col. Calvin P. Titus and the presentation to him by President Roosevelt of the congressional medal of honor for conspicuous gallantry in being the first soldier to scale the walls at Pekin.

The House yesterday by a decisive majority killed the Corliss Pacific Cable Bill, which provided for the construction of the cable by the Government. A letter was read from John W. Mackay, of the Commercial Pacific Cable Company, guaranteeing the laying of an all-American cable from San Francisco to Manila. He said the first section would be in operation by December, 1902, and the full line in 1904.

All nations, except Great Britain and Japan, have agreed to the proposition of the United States to scale down the boxer indemnity claims. A more serious question, and one in which no nation has yet agreed with the United States, is that on account of the depreciation in the value of silver and the consequent advance in exchange, the indemnity should be paid in silver of the value at the time of the signing of the treaty.

President Roosevelt yesterday sent to Congress a special message urging economical concessions to Cuba. He claims that greater relations exist for granting reciprocity to Cuba than to any other country, and that it would be consistent with preserving intact the protective system. He contends that American interests would not be thereby endangered.

A REAL FRIEND

"I suffered from indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Stenavert of Merry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and now my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. A. M. Hughes

Lee, who was arrested in Alexandria, Va., on Friday for the violation of the separate coach law, failed to appear yesterday in the Police Court to answer the charge, and her collateral of $5 was forfeited. All of the State of Virginia is reported as being excited over the arrest.

Senator Elkins, of West Virginia yesterday introduced in the Senate a resolution providing for the admission of the Republic of Cuba as a State in the Federal Union. One plan named in the resolution is that Cuba shall be admitted upon the adoption of a republican form of government by the people with the consent of the existing Government. Such Constitution is to be submitted to Congress by January 1, 1904. An alternate provision, which follows the lines of the admission of Texas, is that Cuba shall be admitted as a State as soon as the terms shall be agreed upon by the Governments of the two republics.

Former Governor General Wood is alleged to have paid Gen. Maximiliano Gomez, the Cuban patriot, the sum of $25,000 to remain out of the race for the first presidency of the Cuban Republic. This statement is made by Charles M. Dobson, a newspaper correspondent, just returned to America from Havana, who says the money was paid over with the knowledge of both President McKinley and President Roosevelt. One alleged reason for the reported payment is that the Administration in Washington believed that the candidacy of Gomez would be disastrous to the election then in progress in the United States.

H. F. Patton, our worthy Supt. of Schools, was here last week looking after the interests of schools, and we predict for him a splendid administration, as he intends to elevate the educational question to a higher standard than ever before, giving to all just what they deserve. He intends to put education on a strictly business basis by keeping before himself and revoking the certificates of all teachers who drink and removing all trustees who get drunk. All good people say let the good work go on. Let our youths see good examples. Our people are expecting from all our new officers good administration, and our people are watching with the eye of a critic the movements of Judge Stanley and attorney Jack May in the establishment of a public road up the right hand side of the river.

The people up the Beaver, Prater and Mud valleys all ask, year after year that a bridge be established across Beaver near the mouth and also near the forks and a road up the right hand side of Beaver. Our officers are coming and aggressive men and we hope that they will keep step with all necessary improvements.

DORTON.

We are located in the very heart of the most extensive coal field in the world. This famous Elkhorn vein has been opened here in many places, and those who are so lucky as to secure a good "black" in this area have a fortune in hand. Nearly every acre here is now out of the hands of the natives. Much of it sold at 35c to 75c per acre, while now the same mineral rights are selling from 4 to 10 dollars per acre, and in a very few years this same coal will bring from 35 to 50 dollars per acre and will be thought very cheap at that.

Coal is the great all of value that these "rock-ribbed" hills contain. A party of explorers brought in the other day, a block of a most pure coal as large as a "corn pone". The Indians were known to procure lead in this same locality, as well as silver. Col. Spradlin showed me a sample of lead taken from the mountain that cedes the waters of the Sandy in Kentucky rivers. The two samples are in appearance the same except as to size.

Mr. Editor, I have a fine field for a new newspaper. I have been here for nearly seven weeks and find only two copies of the News and a copy of the New York World and Herald. These people have the "word of mouth" which is not always like the cup.

The state of morals here might be improved on, and the old are set in their ways, the avenue is through the children, and if there could be a system of Sunday schools such as we have in Lawrence county, I think much good might be wrought for the Savior, and the coming generation. They have several religious denominations here, none of which seem to be warm, active and full of life, but on the contrary, they are hanging from every pew.

Squire John Alex Mullins tendered his resignation to Judge Raliff, and Col. Joshua Osborn has been commissioned.

Marble DeLafayette Greer has established a supply house at the mouth of Beedfield and has many patrons.

John Muney, who has been with the Shelby creek surveying corps, took sick recently and had to return home.

Rev. F. M. Mullins is trying sang culture.

The 17-year locust is here by the thousands.

Services are held in the bush. Corn is made here with a shovel plow and a hoe.

The north land here is as rich as a manure heap, as steep as it is rich, and as rocky as it is rich.

John McJury, Boyd county's engineer, has charge of the Langhorn Bros. surveyors here.

William Boecher, the cattle king of the Cumberland, is a warm member.

I think we will have a railroad to go home on, as we can hear the booming of the rock blasters from the breaks to the mouth of Shelby creek.

Judge J. M. Roberson, Pike's most brilliant attorney, has been here for several days on business for Langhorn Bros.

The "revenueurs" captured and cut a moonshine factory belonging to George Holbrook on Beedfield creek Monday.

William Oliver Buchanan Raliff is logging on Roberson creek.

Thousands Have Kidney Trouble and Don't Know It.

How To Find Out.

Fill a bottle or common glass with your water and let it stand twenty-four hours; a sediment or settling indicates an unhealthy condition of the kidneys; if it stains your linen it is evidence of kidney trouble; too frequent desire to pass it or pain in the back is also convincing proof that the kidneys and bladder are out of order.

What To Do.

There is comfort in the knowledge so often expressed that Dr. Kilmor's Swamp-Root, the great kidney remedy, fills every wish in curing rheumatism, pain in the back, kidneys, liver, bladder and every part of the urinary passage. It corrects indigestion, holds water and scaling pain in passing it, or bad effects following use of liquor, wine or beer, and overcomes that unpleasant necessity of being compelled to go often during the day, and to get up many times during the night. The mild and the extraordinary effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It stands the highest for its wonderful cures of the most distressing cases. If you need a medicine you should have the best. Sold by druggists in 50c and $1. sizes. You may have a sample bottle of this wonderful discovery and a book that tell more about it, both sent absolutely free by mail, address Dr. Kilmor & Co., Birmingham, N. Y. Victor Emanuel, King of Italy, is reported to have bought, within a few days, 150,000 acres of the best coal land in West Virginia from two Pittsburg operators now in Italy. The price was about $5,000,000. The property is situated in the Pocahontas district.

At the mouth of Fourteen in Lincoln county, an unknown negro was shot to death by Harry Smith, a native. The shooting occurred at the home of Mr. Smith, and was witnessed by Mrs. Smith and two or three little children. The negro, who had been at work on the railroad, became incensed at Mr. Smith a few hours before, over some trivial matter, and aiming himself went to the house with gun in hand and began abusing Mr. Smith. The latter walked in to a rear room, picked up a gun and lost no time in firing the contents of both barrels into the outlaw. The negro fired but once, but his bullet went wide of the mark. His remains were buried a few hours later.—Huntington Advertiser.

Of Interest to Farmers.

The Jerusalem artichoke is known beyond any doubt to possess, under anything like proper handling, great value in swine husbandry. When properly cared for, with this object in view, these artichokes are planted in rows thirty inches apart, and eighteen inches from plant to plant in the rows. They are afterward cultivated the same way as potatoes.
And now as to harvesting the crop. The crop can be gathered and stored much as the crop of potatoes are gathered and stored. Often, if not mostly, the style of harvesting is far otherwise. In this case the swine are turned in and allowed to do the digging for themselves. This permission is granted when the tubers are fully grown. The record under this plan is that the swine "grow rapidly, with a tendency to lean meat, owing, perhaps, to the exercise."

The Jerusalem artichoke is a hearty plant—is not hurt by being left in the open ground during the winter. It is recommended that when the swine are on the artichokes a very moderate grain ration should be given. We may here add that on good soil the crop is estimated to yield from 600 to 1,000 bushels per acre.

Pursuant to a call of County Chairman Robt. Dixon the Democrats of Lawrence county met in mass convention at the court house Saturday, June 14th, 1902, at 2 o'clock, p. m., to select delegates to the Ninth district Congressional convention to be held at Maysville, Wednesday, June 18th, 1902.

Chairman Dixon called the convention to order and the elected permanent chairman, Add Skeens and E. S. Ferguson were elected secretaries.

On motion the following were appointed committee on resolutions: W. D. O'Neal, John H. Thompson, F. F. Reese, R. F. Vinson and W. D. Roffe. They made the following report, which was adopted:

Resolved, 1st, That we approve the call of this convention and of the convention which meets at Maysville on the 18th of June.

2nd, That we endorse the present administration of this State and the action of the Democratic members of Congress in their able efforts in behalf of the common people, and particularly in the opposition they have shown to the Republican party in its effort to override the Constitution of the United States. We especially endorse the invincible James N. Kehoe, of the 9th Kentucky District, who has worked with untiring energy for the interest of his district and especially for the Big Sandy Valley. He has proven that in him the Democrats have a leader, who leads to victory and his constituents have a representative who works unceasingly for their general good. We believe that it is for the common good of the people of this district that he should be re-elected at the coming November election.

3rd, All Democrats of Lawrence county are appointed delegates to the Maysville convention and are instructed to cast the vote of Lawrence county for James N. Kehoe on each and every ballot until his nomination is secured.

4th, That we again pledge Lawrence county to the Democratic party and call upon all Democrats to again lend a helping hand and not only repeat the victory won last November but increase the majority two fold.

On last Thursday the house of Wm. Bog Treton caught fire and was barely saved by the efforts of D. H. Roberts, G. C. Middaugh and a bucket brigade. If this house had burned it would almost have burned the entire town, standing as it does on Main street and surrounded by frame buildings. One of Mr. Treton's little girls lighted a Japanese lantern and set it on a table in the parlor and as the candle burned up it set the lantern on fire, then caught the wall paper and the house was soon in flames. It was only saved by tearing out the gable and by the use of water.

UNDER-GROUND SILOS.

Ensilage Keeps as Well in Them as in the Ordinary Above-ground Wooden Structures.

Prof. Roberts at Cornell university some years since built a small test silo of brick. Briefly speaking, it was nothing more or less than a cistern. The top was nearly all arched over, simply room enough left to accommodate the egress and ingress of the ensilage. The opening, which was level with the ground, was made of a water-tight board and earth was thrown over it to the depth of about one foot. The ensilage apparently kept as well in this pit as it did in the above-ground wooden silos.

Some years ago an effort was made to improve the quality of the ensilage by introducing carbonic acid gas into the silo, but this was found to be too expensive. Then there was an effort made to exhaust the oxygen in the silo by putting ignited charcoal in a metal pall which was lowered into the pit, and then the opening was closed.

The object of this was to burn up the oxygen and produce a poisonous gas which it was hoped would help to arrest decomposition. This effort to improve the quality of the ensilage did not meet with results marked enough to continue its use, yet it did seem to produce some beneficial effects. The objection to such a silo is that it is inconvenient when the ensilage is to be removed. However, on the other hand, it is extremely simple in its construction and since the farmer's time is of little account in the winter, he may consent to do the extra work necessary to remove the ensilage from the underground pit to economy in putting it in, and to secure a silo which will neither rot out, blow down nor admit of the entrance of air or water through its sides, provided it is well built and plastered properly on the inside.—Country Gentleman.

Take Care of the Calves.
Take as much care of the calves as you do of their dams, for they form the nursery of the dairy. A poor, pot-bellied calf, raised on slop in a small, bare enclosure, with green pasturage just out of reach, is enough to make an honest dairyman weep, and yet, how many such do we see? Is it any wonder that the land is full of "common" cows? They would be uncommon ones indeed, if they could evolve from such infancy into robust, profitable animals.

Timely Dairy Notes.
Use only pure salt, as the adulterated is often charged with objectionable odor that will readily be imparted to the butter.

A helper calf intended for a cow should be trained from birth with this end in view, and be made gentle by careful handling.

If the cows that are expected to come fresh soon are well fed they will drop stronger and better calves, and the cow herself will do better.

Cream should be churned on the day that it is taken from the milk, but should be well stirred and allowed to ripen evenly before it is put into the churn.

The character of the ration decides to a very great extent the yield and quality of the butter from any cow, and if the most is to be made from the cows and the feed this must be looked after closely.

Do not stop feeding the dairy cow as soon as she goes dry. Give her enough good food to steadily maintain a fair condition of flesh and she will be all the better milked when she comes fresh again. If she is allowed to get thin in flesh it is going to cost something to bring her up again.—Ohio Farmer.

Clark Braly, of California, sends the following to Hoad's Dairyman: "I enclose you a tie for holding cow's head at stanchion while milking. I think it is the best tie I know. It may not be new to you, but as I have seen some inquiry in your paper in regard to milking, I thought I would send it to you. I send you a small model to show how to use it. When the cow's head is fast in the stanchion, the rope is dropped over her neck, the loop is caught on the under side and the rope, doubled, is put through loop and placed around the nose up far enough to not shut off her breathing; then pull the rope back to a post at side of stanchion, take one turn around post. A man can hold the end, and, by placing his weight on rope hold the cow's head quite solid while her horns are removed. The rope is quickly removed by taking it off the nose and pulling."

RAILROAD NEWS.

C. & O. and N. & W. Are Both Pushing Matters Along.

The work of securing rights of way is now in very active progress in the Big Sandy valley. Both the C. & O. and N. & W. are closing up these matters as rapidly as possible in order that the work of construction may be started right away.

Some N. & W. officials were here a few days ago on their way to see some parties who own land over which they desire to secure right of way.

The N. & W. line will be a first class piece of railroad work. The maximum curve will be six degrees and there will be but two of these between Naugatuck and Kenova. The grade will be that of the river, about a foot to the mile. As the heaviest traffic will be down the valley, this is only an advantage.

Frankfort, Ky., June 13.—Articles consolidating the Big Sandy Railway Company of Virginia and the Big Sandy Railway Company of Kentucky were filed in the offices of the State Railroad Commission and Secretary of State today. The consolidated corporation has $100,000 capital stock, and will build and operate a line of road from the terminus of the Chesapeake and Ohio at Whitehouse, Johnson county, through the counties of Johnson, Floyd and Pike, into Virginia. The chief offices of the company will be located at Ashland.

PAINTSVILLE, Ky., June 13.—In a conference of Chesapeake and Ohio officials held yesterday at Whitehouse it was agreed that work on the road should commence July 1. The railroad authorities wanted the work begun earlier, but the contractors were not in position to do so. The question as to whether the road would be located on the eastern or western side of the river has been a very lively one between residents of the two sides. It was settled yesterday by locating the road on the western side from Buffalo up to the breaks.

The C. & O. line will cross the river at Buffalo Shoals, two miles below Paintsville, and continue on the way west side of the river all the way to the breaks. The great volumes of freight business is on that side of the river and this probably influenced the decision to some extent. This route puts the road through Paintsville (or near the limits) and through Pikeville, but on the opposite side of the river from Prestonsburg.

An injunction suit against the C. & O. is to be tried at Hindman this week before Judge A. J. Auxler. It is an action by the Seaboard Airline to prevent the C. & O. from building through the Breaks.

The work of construction is expected to begin in earnest about July 1st. The line will be divided into residences of ten miles length. The one from Whitehouse to Paintsville will be in charge of engineer L. B. Allen. Mr. Hunter and George Mason will have charge of two of the others above there.

Morris Harvey College.

This College is the property of the Western Virginia Conference of the M. E. Church, South, and is located at Barboursville, W. Va. After an absence of six years, I was called there, by the President and faculty, to preach the Baccalaureate sermon on June 8th, 1902. During these six years, many changes have taken place—changes in the population, in the faculty, in the Board of Trustees, in the appearance of the buildings and grounds, and all those changes have been for the betterment of the school.

The present Board of Trustees and the patrons of the college are to be congratulated in securing and retaining a man so well qualified as President D. W. Shaw, A. M., to preside over the school, and he is to be congratulated in having a Board of Trustees, who give him all the authority and prerogatives which belong to the office of President—especially those prerogatives that were withheld from some of his predecessors.

Everything I saw and heard indicated thorough instruction on the part of the faculty and solid advancement on the part of the students. The faculty, announced for another year, are teachers of experience and ability. With such advantages the college ought to be filled with students next session.

The recent Commencement was an interesting and enjoyable occasion. The pleasure of meeting old friends and forming new acquaintances, the kindness shown me, and the expression of appreciation of the services rendered on this occasion, as well as in the days gone by, can never be forgotten. I was gratified to meet some sixteen members of the Conference, showing an increasing interest in the College among the preachers.

There were six graduates in the different departments of the school. J. M. Boland.

A PRETTY WEDDING.

Marriage of Mr. H. C. Corns and Miss Reba Lackey.

On Thursday evening of last week Mr. Harry Corns, of Ironton, and Miss Reba Lackey, of this place, were united in marriage at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Q. Lackey, in lower Louisa. The ceremony was performed by Rev. W. H. Hampton, pastor of the Episcopal Church of Ironton.

It was a very pretty wedding and the first evening affair of the kind that has occurred at a Louisa home for a long time, thus lending additional interest.

8:30 p. m. was the hour fixed for the ceremony. Before that time arrived the sixty guests had gathered at the residence, and when the strains of the wedding march first sounded all were in the spacious parlor awaiting the enactment of the beautiful drama.

At the proper hour Rev. Hampton entered the room, gowning in the robes of his church. Following him came the bridal couple. Advancing to the opposite side of the room, where stood the minister, they plighted their troth to each other through a beautiful ceremony in which the wedding ring played its pretty part. The ceremony used was quite lengthy, and was delivered with unusual impressiveness.

Miss Heloise Thomas, a young cousin of the bride, presided at the piano, playing the Mendelssohn wedding march with skill and expression.

The bride wore an elegant white costume and carried roses and lilies.

Congratulations occupied several minutes after the conclusion of the ceremony. The guests were then directed to the tables, where a seat for each guest was indicated by a card at the plate bearing the name.

Any attempt that we might make at a description of the feast that followed would fail to do it justice. We shall simply say that it was a rare assortment of the best things to eat, prepared in the most delicious manner and served in excellent taste, in several courses. Those who know of the skill and grace of Mr. Lackey in these matters would expect nothing short of all this in such an affair at her home.

At the bride's table sat the following guests:

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Corns, Misses Ode Thomas, Charlotte Freese, Stella Conley, Mattie Wallace, Emma Northup, and Messrs. Frank Hammond, Walter Corns, J. B. Corns, M. J. Webb and D. A. Watt.

The cutting of the bride's cake was attended with the usual amount of interest. Miss Hildegarde Roffe drew the coveted slice that contained the ring—and it does look like there is something in the superstition popularly attaching to this matter. The lucky slice containing the dime fell to the lot of Miss Emma Northup.

It was near midnight before the first guest departed. It was a happy occasion and all entered heartily into this spirit.

Mr. and Mrs. Corns remained here until Saturday afternoon, when they went to Ironton to remain over Sunday. They are now at Catlettsburg, where they will have rooms throughout the summer and fall. Mr. Corns being employed there in the U. S. Engineer's office.

The bride is an amiable and most excellent young lady, popular with everybody. She is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lackey, and a dutiful one she has been. Mr. Corns is fortunate in his selection of a wife, as she will certainly prove to be a helpmeet and blessing to him.

Mr. Corns is a son of Mr. John M. Corns, of Ironton. He has been in the service of the U. S. Engineer department on Big Sandy river during the past few years and has proven himself to be an industrious, worthy and competent young gentleman. He has numerous friends along the river, and all wish him and his bride the best things of a long life.

The presents to the bride were rich and numerous, consisting chiefly of cut glass and silver. A check for $50 from Mr. B. F. Thomas, uncle of the bride, was one of the most acceptable gifts.

The guests from other places were Miss Ode Thomas, Mr. and Mrs. John Corns and three sons, of Ironton; Mrs. J. H. McConnell and son of Catlettsburg.

RAIDED STILLS.

Hazardous and Exciting Experiences of Revenue Officers With Moonshiners.

Deputy Revenue Collector L. T. McClure, of Louisa, arrived home Monday evening from Morgan county, where he had engaged in a successful raid on illicit distilleries, capturing three moonshiners and destroying two stills, together with 1100 gallons of beer.

All this was not accomplished as easily as the bare statement might indicate. The raid was unusually full of danger and excitement and it is remarkable that the officers captured the parties or escaped with their lives.

With Mr. McClure was Deputy U. S. Marshal A. B. Patrick, Sam Risner, and Floyd and Green Patrick. The location of the stills was on White Oak creek, in Morgan county, in a neighborhood said to be one of the most dangerous in the mountains for revenue officers to visit. Seven or eight years ago Col. Gates, a brave U. S. Marshal, attempted a raid there with a posse of ten men. They were met by 25 moonshiners and barely escaped with their lives. Several of the posse discovered bullet holes in their hats and clothing when they got far enough away to gather themselves together and make an examination. Since that they had not been disturbed in their illicit business until last Saturday morning, when Berry Burton, W. S. Mannin and Mat Whitt were caught in the act and landed in jail at West Liberty.

On Friday night the five men named above started for the notorious neighborhood, arriving there shortly before midnight. When a short distance from Burton's house they dismounted, and the two officers and one other man went to look for the still. They found it, and an examination showed that the "beer" on hand was just in condition for running through the still, and the officers agreed in the opinion that the operators would make the "run" the next day. So McClure left the other two men to guard the still while he went back after the two who had remained with the horses.

In passing the home of one of the moonshiners on their way up to the still, the dogs had raised an alarm and the officers heard voices in the house immediately afterward. Mr. McClure returned to the horses by a different route, but while on his way a shot suddenly rang out on the night air, and a bullet whizzed past Mr. McClure. He sprang behind an apple tree but did not return the fire. In a short time he proceeded to where the two members of his posse were waiting with the horses. Expecting an attack they took refuge behind a pile of rails, but no further demonstration was made. It was decided to
